Two Named OnAnnual Staff

Rabe Studio Awarded Contract For Yearbook Photography

Rabe's studio was today awarded the contract for photographic work for this year's Del Ano, according to Harry P. Jackson, business adviser for the yearbook. Graduates and faculty members will be notified of appointments by Student Manager Jack Clark.

Sophomores Grace Cock and Bill Winterbourne were today appointed associate editor and sports editor, respectively, of Del Ano by Editor Jimmie Yamada. Both students have had previous experience writing for yearbooks. Miss Cock was women's sports editor of Del Ano last year, while Winterbourne worked+ as men's sports editor at Santa

Ana Senior high school two years

To date these were the only two New Position students appointed to Del Ano staff positions, Yamada said. "Other appointments," he added, "will be made within the next two weeks. The reason we are delaying some of the selections is because we want to check the freshmen class more carefully for writing talent. Winterbourne was appointed early so that he could begin immediately to collect data on the football squad."

Preliminary work on the yearbook is nearly completed, Ya-mada reported. The book is all dummied" except for the sports

At a meeting last Tuesday the heads of the four departments integrated the work which had been done on Del Ano. Besides the editor, those in attendance were model aircraft. Jack Clark, business manager; and J. R. Stephens, photography edi-

Addition of important equipment to jaysee aeronautics and mechanics courses has been made possible through cooperation of the nation's armed forces with the National Youth Administration program, it was disclosed today by Mechanics Instructor Charles Line.

A recently inaugurated plan provides for the procurement of surplus and absolete equipment from army and navy stores through the NYA defense industries program. A shipment of electrical and aeronautical devices has already been received by the college shop, it is reported.

In cooperation with the local youth program, the college has opened mechanics courses to defense industry students who are not attending jaysee. There are 12 such students employed in shop courses now, Mr. Line indicated.

Included in equipment recently received are 24 airplane magnetos, ticipate in the American Legion 8 radio power generators, 6 airplane inter-communication sets; a subjects. She swung her body up and in my opinion as to the so-called let it come down with terrific "circus roustabouts." Many are force on one arm 60 successive fine fellows. At some time or other

Even though I spent $1 of Instructor John H. McCoy's money (he paid my way, believe it or not), I laughed over $10 worth at the funny clowns. I can't say they were silly as they actually displayed talent in their wit. Their costumes were well-suited to their role, too.

Being convinced that circus freaks were fake, I tried to satisfy my previous impression. What a disappointment to convince myself that circus freaks are freaks. I would never have believed a girl

DONS-TIGERS CLASH IN SECOND LEAGUE TILT

By VIC HEIM

No amount of weird Hallowe'en concoctions could possibly scare Bill Cook more than one little word. That word is Riverside. Ever since last season's grid argument with the Tigers, Cook has been allergic to the nine letters. Why? On the evening of Oct. 26, last, the Bengal line pushed seven Don gentlemen all over the gridiron and it looked like a stalemate until the talented toe of Ray Castro sent the Dons to victory, 3-0, with a 23 yard third quarter field goal . . . Wonder who the three people were who didn't vote for Castro as Don of the Week? . . BIGGEST SCORE

Biggest score of the week went to Nevada who waxed Arkansas A & M 78-0. That's 12 TD's boys . . . Queerest-score-of-theweek honors are awarded to Hiram who battled on even terms with Thiel until the former eleven caught one of Thiel backs behind his own goal to come out on top 2-0! . . . One of the papers gave the following score: Mt. St. Mary's 1/2; Potomac State 0. What goes on? Do they pay off in half points for crossing the midfield stripe? HAMAKER OUT

. . Dame Misfortune has again struck at Gene Hamaker. Now both of the fullback's knees are on the blink and its reported that he must stay off the gridiron for the rest of the season . . . Compton's championship Tartar squad trade pigskin punches with Long Beach Viking's tonight and one will be on top of the Metropolitan heap after the smoke is cleared. The beach squad, who scrimmaged the locals last Monday, reportedly has a nifty "pitching-catching" combination in Johnny Seedborg and Russ Nowling. TWO CHAMPS

Santa Ana junior college undoubtedly the ONLY colege in the nation with two naional AAU champs enrolled. Signed up here are Eddie Moris, sprint king, and Bill Wakefield, who won the high jump event at Fresno last June. One bserver said that Wakefield would be the first human ever to clear seven feet!!...Remember, drive carefully to Riverside onight. The world is full of uarterbacks who called a run around the right end—and then went left. . . but it's NOT full f guys who signaled right and en turned left an't stop, don't start!

Contest Winner

Second guessing must be second nature to Mason Teter, freshman, who today became the first winner of El Don's annual grid gues-sing contest by having the highest degree of accuracy on his ballot.

Topping the field of contestants (which did not have a woman student among it). Teter hit the dent among it), Teter hit the proverbial bulls-eye by predicting correctly 20 of the 23 contests on the ballot. This figures out to be an average of 87 per cent.

A number of students were in the next bracket, having guessed 19 of the games correctly.

Teter becomes the first eligible student for the $1 award being given in trade at the Don cafe. This wook hrings

WASMUTH GONE

Although the Bengals lost Sully (Scotter) Wasmuth through graduation last spring, a seasoned line awaits to meet the Don forward wall. The Tigers, who dropped a 14-7 argument to Fullerton last week, will also not be found wanting when it comes to advancing

At the halfback posts will be Harvey Rife and Jim Bentley, two excellent blockers, who were given berths on the 1939 all-conference eleven. Fullback Fred Nickerson, who alternated with Wasmuth at carrying the ball last year, will be starting his second game against Santa Ana. His playing last year caused the Dons no small amount of trouble.

FIRST STRING

On this side of the picture, Cook will probably start his "first" line of defense which includes Schildmeyer and Gunther at ends; Co-captain Sedar and Crowther at tackles; Hannaford and Noble at guards; and Co-captain McKnight

The Dons will be banking on the backfield combination of Hal Lilley at fullback and Pruney Parsons at quarterback. At the halfback spots there will be Frank Minini and Bob Ward.

HAMAKER OUT

Hamaker has been shelved because of injured knees, while Hull has a broken blood vessel. Dois has a sprained ankle and Barnes turned up with a charley horse.

Jess Mortenson, Tiger coach, will probably start Hopkins and Arguello at ends; Bruener and Ross tackles; Thomas and Richardson at guards, and Robb at center. Completing the backfield of Bentley, Rife, and Nickerson, will be Jacobsmeyer at quarterback.

The Darting Dashing Dazzling Dons!

How are you going to pick the "Don-of-the-Week" when they're like that? Well, that's YOUR problem! Shut your eyes and stab at the line-up with a pen-

Votes are coming in fine! . . . don't forget to vote this week. Just put a ring around the name of the Don you thought was most outstanding in the game, and bring it in to our store, put it in the vote box in the front of the store.

Or, send it by mail. Or, just put his name on any piece of paper and do what we said!

JAYSEE STUDENT KILLED ON WAY TO CLASS

Startling isn't it? But some day you may see those very words in the headlines of your evening paper. And why? Because unless there is a signal put at the crossing of Mainand Tenth, some innocent person will be killed as they cross the highway on their way to Every hour a hundred lives are endangered by the automobiles that thunder down Main street as though it were the Ascot speedway. The school has thoughtfully put a guard at the crossing, but he too has to protect his life and must learn to jump to one side as heavy objects go whizzing past. When the junior college was first moved to this location, a safety device was not installed because "the move was only temporary." Several years later the "move is still temporary," at least we are still in the same spot . . . . and without signals.

Only when the headline JAYSEE STUDENT KILL-ED ON WAY TO CLASS appears, will it be realized that the student was not killed but murdered by the lack of signals. Why wait for that to happen? Do something now!—B. B.

Bouquet to Band.

The new uniforms the band flashed at the Chaffey game were the first to be worn by any Don musical unit for 26 years. It is a credit to the initiative of those who started the movement for the new uniforms.

With 30 members, the band should now be able to present varied formations at half-time after a little practice. And with a little more time it will be able to present various skits during the mid-game period.

With a colorful band assured, it might be possible to build up a small-scale card section consisting of volunteers who are willing to contribute time and hard work. It can be done.

In the meantime, our congratulations to Instructor Alan A. Revill, Student leader Milton Asher, and the entire majorette and band unit.

The performance last Friday was a credit to the college.—G.T.

On Youth, From ACP

To some degree, American youth is on the defensive. Not a few persons in high places have been outspoken in their criticism. "Recently," observes the Los Angeles Collegian, "we, the youth of the United States, have been the victims of a campaign calling us 'a bunch of cowards . . . a disgrace to the old families of trailblazers." The Collegian continues that youth has "no desire to go over to Europe and be involved in another one of Europe's muddles. We are afraid of having to fight someone else's fight. . But we ARE NOT afraid to fight our OWN FIGHT.

The Creighton university Creightonian notes that "Mr. Arnold Whitridge, in an open letter to American undergraduates, charged that students are not only un-American and pro-Nazis but downright immoral because they don't grab a gun and charter the first boat to England." The Creightonian replies that "the reason undergraduates are opposed to intervention is not because we are too sluggish to defend our ideals, but because we believe that allying England is not the way to defend them.'

Citing the rush of youth to volunteer for services in armed forces, the Louisiana State university Reveille notes that "very often American youth is condemned fortalking intelligently and thinking shallowly. "We wonder" asks the Reveille, "if these 'condemners' would take the time to sit and consider the action of America's youth, with the world and his life before him, who sets aside his personal plans and ideas in order that he may serve his country—would they so hastily shout 'shallow'?

A challenge to youth is voiced by the Santa Clara, publication at the University of Santa Clara, Calif. "Recently," it says, "in a letter to a national magazine, a woman accused American young men of doing nothing but 'living off their parents and the government, riding around in jaloppies, and exercising an immoral attitude toward women." The Santa Clara believes "the immediate reaction of the subjects of such attacks is laughter or contempt. It is an unfortunate truth, however, that the last person to recognize a fault is the subject of that fault. It is the duty of college men to exhibit in themselves such industry, patriotism and adherence to Christian principles that in times of national crises scurrilous attacks upon 'American Youth' will be made impossible.

If the college press of the land is an indicator, youth recognizes its shortcomings, resents the unfairness of some critics, and is resolved to disprove all charges of weakness.-ACP

El Don Mailbox: Campus Comments

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6—(To the Editor of El Don:)—Since was graduated from Santa Ana junior college, I have seen quite a lot of other educational institutions, large and small, and jaysee still looks fine to me by comparison. Just too bad, though, that it has to do its splendid job with inadequate buildings and equipment, in spite of the frequent agitation I used to share, for getting a new plant. But on reading an El Don again lately, I was glad to see that the editorial spirit is still in there

Good luck, and keep it up; with enough such effort, the city may eventually awake and give you a share of the educational comforts of life. I'm betting that it won't be long. It seems your Mail Box column is restricted to students, but I couldn't resist, even so, sending you the best wishes of a-Loyal Alumna

• Hold That Tiger!

● But I Didn't Die IN ANSWER TO A DEAD YOUTH

(Ed. Note: Two weeks ago El Don published an article entitled "Dead Youth Tells His Story." It aroused considerable discussion. This is an answer.)

By RUTH WADE You died. Twenty-two years ago you died. You died because of a moment's carelessness, because you forgot to duck. But I didn't. I lived and for twenty-two years I've been learning. Who am I? Just the girl that you were going with, the steady girl friend. Who couldn't marry the other fellow because she had to remain faithful to your memory. whole town expected it!

I might as well have been your widow those first two years. They put me on the shelf when you died and I stayed there. I was young, too. Just nineteen and I wanted to live. I've taught children for twenty-two years, other women's children just because you died.

You are dead and nothing can ever hurt you. I have had to live and living, have had to learn. I have learned a lot from my nephew who is just the age you were twenty-two years ago.

He is going to enlist. Not because the bands are playing "Tip-perary" and "Johnny, Get Your Not because the parades are marching. Not because the banners are waving and flags are flying. Not because the rest of the gang are going. Not because the pastor told him it was his sacred duty. Not because in the posters, Uncle Sam is pointing an accusing finger at him as a slacker. Not because some pretty girl thinks he would be "so cute" in a uniform. Not because he believes in a lot of propaganda. Not because he expects glamour or romance or adventure.

He is going because he thinks. Because he thinks he owes it to himself and his country to know HOW to fight if it should ever be necessary. Because he knows that Europe is not a long way off, anymore. Because he has no romantic sense of duty but has instead a clear, cold logic. Because he thinks it is better to give a year or so out of his life than to give all of it.

Because he wants to LEARN how to duck. You didn't KNOW how and you are DEAD. He is going to LEARN how so that he may LIVE.

Highlights On Other Campi

Students at the University of eorgia "mail" 25 unaddressed Georgia letters and post cards daily, according to Athens postmaster. They all come back too!

The New York School for Social Research is familiarly known as the University in Exile.

Of the 62 men on the University of Minnesota football squad, 59 are Minnesotans.

• Lose Something? Look In The Office

Books and pens, sweaters and keys-these are a few of the things that are lost every day and are placed in the jaysee lost and found department.

If unclaimed within the school year the unsigned books will be given to the jaysee library. Clothes, sweaters in summer and raincoats and galoshes in winter, are given to the Salvation Army if not claimed during the year.

Most lost things are found during the winter. Raincoats, galoshes and umbrellas are the most common things found then. Pencils, penknives, eyeglasses, pocketbooks, keys and chains are other commonly found objects.

In CH is the only lost and found department in the jaysee. All material from other buildings is taken there.

Classrooms and lawns are the most common places where objects are left by students. Sometimes valuable wristwatches and rings are left in wash rooms.

When a recovered object has a name attached, a note is left in the student's box. About half of the books are not signed.-Stanley Woolston

QUOTH HE

Jack Clark to Dean of Men Calvin C. Flint: "Yes, I really think the United States should have joined the League of Nations. It may not have prevented another World war, but it would have probably postponed it for about 20 years. Then I'd be beyond the 36-year age limit." НА, НА, НА

That the college this year is supplied with more than the usual quota of wags was apparent after observing some of the answers to the ballots distributed last Tuesday. Mr. Hitler received four votes, followed closely by another write-in candidate for the presidency, a character by the name of Irving J. Yehoudi. Ain't that the funniest thing ever! I bet the master humorists who thought up the gag out of their own little minds most near died laughing. Youth marches on.

The

COLUMNING

Nearly every journalism student wants to write a column. The most ardent practitioner in the firstyear-class was Frank Lindgren. In rapid succession he pounded out five columns. None were published. He hasn't turned one in now

What does it take to get a column published? It requires curiosity, intelligence, hard-working ability, creative genius, and unmalleable courage. Sometimes, being the editor of a page helps. AROUND TOWN About five kids were playing around a garage a few days ago on the east side of town.

"Ping! Ping!" one of them yelp ed, pointing a cap gun at a kid about ten years old, who was wearing a cape. "Got ya, Joe!"

Joe shook his head vehemently 'Oh no, you didn't. I've got supertough skin. You can't hurt me with that gun. Bang! There! Now got you.

The other kid actually seemed to be happy to be dead: "Okay, okay. Let's start another game now. Gimmie your coat. Joe, it's my turn to be Superman."

Everyone wanted to be Super man; he always won. Dick Tracy Flash Gordon and Charlie Chan were pretty good in their own rights, but Superman could crush all of them with his super-power ful arms and see through their cleverest plans with his X-ray ey sight. So the kids were all taking turns being Superman; each on just stuck around in the game, waiting for that one tantalizin turn when he would become invicible, when he would be Supe man.

It was sort of amusing watching them for awhile. Then for some crazy reason, I thought of all the grown men in the world who were trying to be Superman-only th didn't want to take turns. And wasn't so funny anymore. CAUTION

Tonight when you're driving and from the Riverside game re member that road sign in Connecticut which says: Drive lik hell, and you'll get there.

• From El Don Files FIVE YEARS AGO

El Don inaugurated the pub cation of news pictures. This add ed another "first" to the paper innovations among junior college newspapers.

The gate receipts for the firs four games totaled $1997.41. The high mark of the season was $648 39 taken in the Riverside game

The depression caught up with the Associated Students' budge to the tune of a 10 per cent cut No appropriations were to made for drama, music, or basket

The Salad Bowl "No. 2" was featuring home-made candy at nickel a bar, and Swanberger' was advertising the new actio backs in sweaters and coats.

Calvin C. Flint, dean of men predicted that Europe would plunged into war within the nex two years. He pointed out the re armament of Russia, Germany and Japan.
